7. Incentives
   Eligibility in Lifestyle’s Health & Wellness Program is available to all enrolled employees and covered spouse dependents. Non-spouse dependents can be invited to create a Wellness Center account in conjunction with their parent or guardian but will receive deductible credits based upon the employee’s participation, should the non-spouse dependents come close to meeting their deductible. These non-spouse dependent deductible credits are not loaded proactively, so as the participating individual, you are expected to communicate these needs to Lifestyle Health Plans in the event that your non-spouse dependent is close to meeting his or her individual deductible. All deductible credits are maximized when the participant is within $500 remaining on his or her deductible. This $500 remaining amount is the member’s responsibility without assistance from Lifestyle Health Plans. For non-spouse dependents who are minors, access to the Wellness Center can only be in conjunction with explicit, fully informed consent by a parent or guardian.

8. Health Risk Assessment / Biometric Lab Testing Data

9. Health Fairs / Employer Sponsored Events
   On certain occasions, participating employers may elect to organize and sponsor a health fair or health related event in which employees are able to gain valuable information regarding Lifestyle Health Plans Health & Wellness Program, in addition to having access to other services such as on-site blood draws, biometric screenings, or immunizations. These events are provided at the employer’s discretion and sponsorship and as such, do not imply any approval or endorsement by Lifestyle Health Plans.
